

Ivan and the Dogs

A play for radio by Hattie Naylor

Cast

IVAN

FATHER – Russian speakers doubles as MAN

MOTHER - Russian speakers doubles as WOMAN could double as Erina's neighbour/mum.

MAN – Russian speaker

WOMAN – Russian speaker.

BOY (teenage) - Russian speaker.

ERINA

Scene 1

IVAN

So. All the money went and there was nothing to buy food with. Mothers and Fathers couldn't feed their children or their animals. Mothers and Fathers tried all sorts of things to find money, to buy food, but there wasn't any because all the money was gone. So Mothers and Fathers tried to find things they could get rid of, things that ate, things that drank or things that needed to be kept warm. They looked about their flats for these things.

The dogs went first.

They took them in their cars and drove them to the other side of the city and left them there.

But still there was no money,

So Mothers and Fathers looked for other things, other things that ate, and drank and needed to be kept warm

And Children were taken to other side of the city and left there.

You have promised me a dog, Erina, if I tell you my story.

I have been with you for three years now.

Now I'm 11, then I was 4

So, I can't remember everything because I was very little but I will tell you as much as I can.

I will tell you as if it's now.

Dogs live like it's now.

And this is now.

*Background – Int. Flat. A large man falling on the floor and getting up.
IN RUSSIAN.*

- But I.
- Get off. Where have you put it, you bitch? Where have you put the drink.

MAN stumbles back up.

- get off me I don't need your help.

And this is my Mother and my Stepfather.

*Background – Int. Flat. A large man falling on the floor and getting up.
IN RUSSIAN.*

- Did you drink it?
- Ivan - No.*
- Don't hit him.

- why he here. All he does is eat and drink
- No Kolya. No Kolya.
- Out of my way.
Thud. Screaming. Mother and father fight. Ivan screams.
- No

He has fists like forever, like hammers, and he builds red mountains across my skin.

Screaming continues – a far back of mix to fade.

- No Kolya. No Kolya.
- Out of my way.
Thud. Screaming. Mother and father fight. Ivan screams.
- No

Later they curl up together on the floor.

Every night is like this.

Thud. Screaming. Mother and father fight. Ivan screams.
- No

In the morning he will beg her to forgive him and promise on his Mother's life that he will never hit her again. And she will say it is because we have nothing.

She'll say it's because he has not been paid for months, that it's because the bosses steal – and then she will blame the boss of everybody, who is called President Yeltsin.

And then she will cry and he will cry, and she will tell him that he has a soft heart and then she will kiss his red face all over.

And he'll promise again on his Mother's life that he'll never hit her again.

But he's lying.

His Mother should have died many times.

But now is tonight, they are curled up on the kitchen floor – holding hands with nothing.

It is May and the ice on the river has just broken.

So I go.

I put in my pockets a can of beans, some dry bread and some pickles,

then I put my most special thing in my pocket.

It is a picture from a magazine of Svetlana – she is Miss Russia.

And she is as beautiful as the last star in the morning sky. I fold her picture carefully so there are no lines across her face and put it in my pockets.

I stand on a chair to open the door and I go.

FX opening of door.

FX door opens. FX big metal door opening.

FX Laughter. In Russian, Sound of pressing lift. Man and woman.

- The lift doesn't work.
- Which floor do you live on
- Sixteenth. Sorry.
- Come on – up the stairs.

Giggling.

It is Nina, she lives above us, and a man I don't know.

I run past them.

Russian. MAN and WOMAN

- Ow. Ivan is that you. Ivan. (shouting after him) Ivan!
- Let him go.
- Ivan! Ivan!
- He's gone now come on. We've got things to do.

Giggling. They move off.

FX MUSIC. With dogs barking and children playing – like a playground – ending on this being brought up very high in the mix – like a nightmare ending with a thud.

Scene 2

IVAN And I am woken by someone kicking me.

BOY
In Russian
- You can't stay here.

I am in a door way in front of a shop.

BOY
In Russian
- You can't stay here!

He tells me that I can't stay here.

Boy shouting.
In Russian.
- Pay! Pay!

You have to pay to stay here, he says.

Boy shouting.
In Russian.
- Pay! Pay!

And I run away.

FX. Laughter.
Boy in Russian.
- Stupid kid. Just left home have you. You're not going to get far like that.

Someone has emptied the bins in the night and rubbish blows across the street:
bottles, tin cans and crisp papers and everything smells.

I stand on a corner between two streets, so I can watch each street.

I take out my pickles and bread and eat them.

A dog is watching me.

It is a way away from me.

But it watches every time I put something in my mouth.

She is white with big hungry eyes.

When she sees I have finished and there is nothing for her she turns and runs away.

I don't like how I feel when the white dog goes.

There are no more pickles left to give her, and a tiny bit of bread which I must keep for myself.

FX running and giggling.

I watch a boy and girl running towards me, I hide.

They are carrying something.

Maybe somewhere in the earth there's a kind place that makes you happy. Or a Mother that makes you happy.

I wait till no one is watching and then I go into the hole.

It stinks here, but it's warm and there are there are candles.

There are dark paths, and pipes.

The pipes are warm.

And children, lie amongst them.

All the children are very still.

They are blowing plastic bags up in their mouths, like balloons.

A boy stands in front of me.

Boy

RUSSIAN

- Glue. You want some glue?

Glue he says. You want some glue?

I don't know what he means.

Boy

RUSSIAN

- Glue. You want some glue?

'Glue', he says again, 'do you want some glue.'

Boy

RUSSIAN

- Glue. Glue.

I say, 'Yes'

Boy

RUSSIAN

- What can you give me?

He wants me to give him something.

But I say I haven't got anything.

He pushes me to the floor and laughs.

Boy

RUSSIAN

- You can't have any glue unless you pay me, you idiot.

He says: 'I can't have any glue if I can't pay.'

But his eyes aren't good.

All the children's eyes aren't good.

Nothing is wrong with the world, one says.

Then he shouts it.

Boy

RUSSIAN

- Nothing is wrong with the world!

And all the children laugh.

Then he says, “you’ve never had glue before have you. You don’t even know what it is.”

RUSSIAN.

- I’ve never seen him before anyway, he must have sneaked in’

And another says, a bigger boy.

“I’ve never seen him before anyway, he must have sneaked in”

And he has eyes are like mine.

I know I have to make friends with him but am not good at this.

Boy.

Russian.

- What you got for me?

He asks me if I have anything for him.

I take out my tin of beans.

He pushes me onto the floor and kicks me.

He searches my pockets, he takes my bread and eats it and then he takes my picture of Svetlana.

He screws up the picture of Svetlana and throws it in my face and kicks me again.

‘Get out’ he shouts. ‘You have to pay to live here, get out. ‘

BOY
Russian

- Get out!! You have to pay to live here.

It’s so warm next to the pipes.

BOY
Russian

- Get out!!

‘Get out’ he screams. I pick up my screwed up picture and run, climbing back up to the ground.

And back into the cold.

Then I run again until I think I’m in a safe place.

I take Svetlana’s picture from my pocket and smooth it out against the ground.

There are now lines all over her face from where the bully-boy screwed it up.

I cannot see any stars tonight and

I am so hungry.

Scene 3

FX Music.

Into humming Bombzi.

Ext. FX bonfire.

IVAN

It is evening now – no food, for two days.

I got water from the melting snow. But you have to have lots and lots of it, to stop feeling thirsty.

I smell potatoes. Round a fire Bombzi – drunk old men on the streets.

Then two walk over to a lump in the snow.

It's where the snow is melting.

One bends down and dusts the snow off the lump.

It is a body.

It is a body in the melting snow.

MAN and WOMAN.

Russian like howls.

- Vlad
- Vlad! Vlad!

- Vlad! Vlad!

He sings and moves closer to me.

I move away.

FX singing or humming, mumbling between.

MAN

RUSSIAN.

- dear boy, dear sweet boy.

He puts his large dirty hand on my shoulder.

I move away.

FX singing or humming, mumbling between.

MAN

RUSSIAN.

- dear boy, dear boy.

The same white dog is watching me.

The same dog as before.

She is not near.

But she is watching.

FX singing or humming, mumbling between.

MAN

RUSSIAN.

- My dear boy, my dear boy.

The man moves again and I see there is no good in him even with tears in his eyes.

He wants something bad from me.

The white dog barks. She sees it too.

And I push him and run with my potato.

FX man stumbles to the ground.

MAN

RUSSIAN.

- Come back! Come back you little git. Come back!! Come back!!

The white dog runs. I am running and she is running too.

We are running together.

She looks at me and she smiles.

I know she is smiling.

We stop, a long way away from the Bombzi.

We both breath very hard.

We are by a big factory.

I sit.

She sits.

I break off a bit of my potato and put it in my hand.

I lay my hand open for her to take it.

She looks.

I wait.

We wait together.

She won't take it

But she doesn't shout or kick me.

She just looks down on the ground with big hungry sad eyes.

So I put the potato on the ground and move away.

Now she comes near to the potato, very near

And then snaps it up. And moves away.

Now she eats it all up,

She stands as far away as I was from the Bombzi.

So I cannot hurt her.

I would never hurt her.

I eat the rest of my potato – giving her two more bits.

She waits for me.

I sigh. She sighs.

I close my eyes.

Then I sleep. I sleep knowing she is watching me – the white dog, knowing the white dog watches me.

Music.

Scene 4

IVAN

In the morning the white dog has gone.

I wake just in time to see the last star and I take the screwed up picture of Svetlana from out of my pocket again and try to get the lines out but they won't go.

Svetlana will be my Mother one day.

One day she will be my beautiful, kind Mother.

She will see me and take me in and I will go and live with her because she is so kind and beautiful.
I will have food everyday and everything I want.

I am at the back of the factory and the men now come to work.

So I hide.

I find a place where I can see out but no one can see me.

Then I see her again. The White dog.

She knows I'm there. Though the men don't.

She is careful not to get near them and then

I see her disappear underneath the building.

This is her den.

I'm so hungry.

All morning this hungry feeling grows.

But I think now that the day is not very safe if you are small.

The dogs know this too.

They stay in their den, so I stay in my hiding place.

The men come out for lunch.

They throw what they don't want away and they go back in.

The white dog moves towards the bin when they have gone back but she can't get inside.

But I can.

When she sees me she moves away. Her head low like before with her sad eyes.

I climb into the bin.

I pull out the end of a fizzy drink and a sandwich.

I drink the drink and eat half the sandwich and then put the rest on the ground for the white dog.

She takes it and eats it.

She is so beautiful.

FX music.

It is night now.

The men have all gone home.

FX fire. Adult voices, sounding drunk.

RUSSIAN.

Men and women.

- The potatoes are ready.
- No They're not.
- Yes they are.

I am standing near two Bombzi,

They are roasting potatoes in their fire.

I'm not sure how to get near them without being seen.

Then a gang of children come near one of them.

They get in a circle all around him.

FX children jeer at Bombzi.

Children.

RUSSIAN.

- Bombzi drunks. Bombzi drunks.
- Grab his trousers.
- Go on grab them.
- Bombzi – What are you doing. Get off me. Don't. Don't.

They push him onto the floor. The other Bombzi

Can't do anything as there are too many children.

They push him to the floor and then take his trousers off.

- Bombzi – What are you doing. Get off me. Don't. Don't.
- Children – Get his belt.
- Children – I've got it.

They take all his clothes so he is naked in the cold.

Bombzi has fallen into the fire.

No one helps her.

FX WOMAN falling into fire. Screaming.

WOMAN – help me! Help me!

Children laughing.

Bully-boy is there and he is laughing very much.

The white dog runs with me. I run with her.

We run all the way back to the factory.

I put half of one of the potatoes on the ground,

A little nearer to me this time.

And she comes, snaps it up, and moves away to eat it.

Then I put the next piece in my hand.

I make my hand flat for her to take the potato.

It is hard for her.

She is very, very afraid.

Her eyes look down on the ground.

I talk to her.

I tell her I will never hurt her.

I remember my Stepfather and his lying.

And I tell her that I am not lying, that I will not Hurt her, that she is safe with me.

And then I sing to her.

Song.
Russian into English?

She listens, her ears to one side.

And then she takes the potato from my hand.

I am so happy.

I am so happy.

And I give her a name.

I call her Belka.

Belka, Belka.

Belka who took food from my hand.

FX Music.

Scene 5

IVAN

There are new restaurants opening all over Moscow.

The women in them have blonde hair, always and the men

wear suits and gold rings. These men kill people.

They killed the people in my block.

One, two, Silence.

One, two, and God counts.

In the bins outside is all the food they can't eat because they are already fat.

Well the women aren't fat, but all the men are.

The dogs can't climb into this bins but I can.

Just before the last star is left in the morning sky I go to the restaurants and climb into the bins.

Belka comes with me.

I give her all the thrown out raw meat.

She takes food from my hands now, always

But she won't let me touch her.

and beg.

Scene 6

MAN.

RUSSIAN.

- I bet it's chocolate, or is it strawberry, is it strawberry?

Come with me now. He says. We can go now.

Come on. They'll have all your favourites.

Don't you trust me?

To back of mix:

RUSSIAN:

- Come on. Don't you trust me?

But all men lie.

To back of mix:

Russian:

- Come on, don't be silly little boy, come on ! I've paid you.

He starts shouting at me, then he grabs me.

I don't know what to do. I know he is going to hurt me bad. I tell him to let go.

To back of mix:

Russian:

- I tried to be nice but you wouldn't come.

But he won't let go of me.

He starts dragging me away.

So I bark.

IVAN barks, with difficulty at first and then with a loud convincing sound -

It is the most extraordinary sound. Heightened acoustically in anyway we can. He repeats this bark – becoming ‘like a dog’. Mixed into real sound of dogs and growling as BELKA and the other dogs enter.

And, suddenly they are all there – all of them.

Belka, Vano, Strelka, Ruslan and Kugya.

FX Growling and barking of dogs.

They curl up their snouts and show their teeth and growl at the man.

FX Growling and snapping.

They are very angry with him for frightening me.

Belka snaps at him.

He lets me go, I kick him in the leg and we run.

We run laughing, Belka, Vano, Strelka and Kugya.

We run all the way back to the den.

All the dogs are grinning now.

I lie down on the ground outside, getting my breath.

And Belka bends over me and licks my face and I put my hand out and she lets me touch her.

I touch her.

I touch Belka.

She lets me feel her soft white fur.

This is the first of the best days.

FX Music.

It is so hot now, that we never do anything in the middle of the day.

I sleep in my hiding place opposite their den

Then he goes back in and finds something for me, and something for my dogs. Once it was a bar of chocolate, I still shared it. I share everything with my dogs.

We know every moment

What we need to see

And where danger is

And when to go

We know now.

Kugya is a very silly dog and he always wants to play. Ruslan is a big soft thing; he likes to roll over in anything that smells. He licks me until I scratch his belly. Strelka runs like the wind and she is always guarding, like me, we are both on look out always.

Belka tells us what to do.

Suddenly they stand still and we all have to stand still too and they listen to the wind, the cars, the factory and people. No one likes us so we have to be very careful. Then Belka nudges me and barks and we all know that danger is near and we run back to the den and the men pass and don't even know we're there. Belka always knows best and we do whatever she tell us.

I learn to growl. I learn to howl.

You howl when you can't find each other and they howl back to say they are nearby. And then when we are together we all growl at each other but no one ever gets hurt, it's so we know if we've been good or not. Sometimes I fall asleep

She likes dogs, I know she does.

Because my dogs will come and live with her too.

Scene 7

IVAN

And now I am standing near the hole in the ground that the children go down.

I am begging further down the street.

Today has been no good and no one has given me any money to buy biscuits or drink with.

I think people have less again.

I think things are bad.

It is dangerous to beg here as I know it belongs to the other children. But I'm not worried.

And then there is shouting.

Boy

RUSSIAN

- Hey you, what are you doing here?

But I'm not scared. Not anymore.

It's the bully-boy, that made the children have nothing in their eyes.

Boy

RUSSIAN

- what are you doing here? This is my territory.

Scene 8

IVAN

It's a full moon. The summer is going.

We go to the hills at the top of Moscow and look over the city, my dogs and me.

And we howl.

FX Ivan and Dogs howl.

We howl across the city.

From here it glitters

From here it doesn't smell.

There are no bins to spill rubbish and no bully boys or drunk stinking Bombzi.

From here you can imagine a city of good.

From here there is a kind Mother.

From here God never has to count.

And somewhere in the city Svetlana is sleeping or dancing or out in a restaurant with somebody nice.

And I feel her curled up picture in my pocket.

FX Music.

Scene 9

IVAN

And now I go to see my Mother.

Belka comes with me.

It is difficult to find my way back.

It is right across the city.

But I find it.

I wait outside until someone else goes in

And then slip in with them.

I climb up all the stairs and

I knock.

FX knocking.

A strange women answers.

I say I've made a mistake.

I don't know what to do.

I sit on the stairs.

Then Nina comes home.

WOMAN

Russian.

Int. Stairwell.

- where have you been. Ivan you look dreadful. They were so worried about you. Oh Ivan you don't know do you. You don't know.

And Nina says: “Where have you been. Ivan you look dreadful. They were so worried about you.
Oh Ivan you don’t know do you. You don’t know.

And Nina goes very silent.

And I ask: ‘What is it?’

But still she is silent.

And then she starts to cry and I ask her again and then she tells me.

She tells me that my Mother is dead.

And everything is silent.

‘One.’ Silent. ‘One.’ Silent.

Then she tries to get me to come in but I won’t.

She died three months ago she says.

WOMAN

Russian.

- Ivan I’m so sorry. So sorry. Come and have some hot milk. Come in with me.

Nina tries again to get me to come with her.

But I say no.

I go and wait outside. I wait until it is dark.

FX ext. Stumbling man approaching. Mumbling to self. MAN.

RUSSIAN.

- Git. I’d have paid him tomorrow. Would have paid him.

And now he is coming home.

My stepfather.

So drunk like always.

I am bigger now and it is easy to trip him up.

FX repeated thuds and groaning.

He tries to get up but I bark and Belka curls up her face and growls at him.

FX growling ad snapping dog.

Man.

RUSSIAN.

- get her off me. Get off me.

The groaning through out kicking – his is out of his head and can barely speak.

He is stuck on the ground.

She snaps at him.

And I kick him and kick him and kick him.

But he looks like an old man and there is nothing in his eyes.

The vodka has eaten him up. It is so easy to kick and kick and kick him.

But I don't want to do it anymore.

Belka barks – it's enough.

We leave him. Lying on the ground.

He doesn't even recognize me.

Scene 10

IVAN

The first snow comes.

The first snow is never beautiful.

It turns turn to slush and mud and it means the beginning of the very, very cold days.

Everyday there is no sun and no stars.

I am waiting at the back of the restaurant the nice man has just gone in to get me and my dogs something.

Then I turn and there is a militia man.

He grabs me.

MAN. Ext. City.

Russian.

- Got you.

He is silly to do this.

I bark.

FX Dogs bark back and arrive.

Growling.

You must let me go, I say.

Ivan. RUSSIAN.

- you must let me go, or they will bite you hard.

or they will bite you hard.

Man.

RUSSIAN.

- I'm not letting go.

He won't let go.

I shout.

Belka bites into his leg.

Then he lets go,

FX Man shouting in pain.

We run and run.

He has no chance of catching us.

We run all the way back.

And lie down on the ground all panting together.

We rub noses – to check we are all alright.

We are very alright.

If the militia capture you they put you in prison's filled with other children who no one cares about.

Belka still won't let me into the den.

Then Vano disappears.

One day he goes out and does not come back.

We wait for him.

When it is night and he should be home,

Belka and the others howl for him but he still doesn't come back.

They howl all night.

But still he doesn't come.

I go out looking for him.

The dogs won't come with me.

So I look on my own.

It is hard to be without them.

There is no kindness without them.

I see the bully-boy walking towards me.

I turn to run.

Then I see he is not walking properly.

He looks much older.

He wobbles.

A Bombzi goes to him.

It is very cold.

So the Bombzi rubs vodka in his face,
to make his face warm

And then he helps him stuff newspapers in his shoes, to stop the cold from getting in.

They drink from a bottle.

Scene 11

IVAN

Now I am at the back of the restaurant.

This time I am very careful here.

I still wait for the man but I always have all the dogs with me very close.

They are tucked behind big bins

but they are there.

And I always safe because they are here,

so no one can touch me.

The man goes inside to get me something.

12

MEN.

RUSSIAN.

- Hold him fast.
- The dogs.
- Hit them.

I don't need to do anything.

They are at their feet.

Russian Militia shouting as dogs attack. Yelping dog.

MEN.

RUSSIAN.

- Keep hold of him.
- Let go of my leg.
- Hit them.

They grab their legs.

They yelp when they are hit by the sticks

But they are brave dogs.

They bite them.

More shouting from MEN.

They let me go.

MEN.

RUSSIAN.

- I couldn't hold on anymore.
- We'll get you next time dog boy and your dogs.
- They've cut into my skin.

This time I run like so fast.

We don't look back.

We run and run and run.

The snow is thick and I slip but then I am back on my feet again.

They don't know all the ways.

We know all the ways.

All the secret animal ways.

In and out of everywhere.

They can't follow us.

But this time was very close.

I was almost taken.

Belka knows I am very frightened.

There is a red mark on my neck where the militia hit me.

The night is very, very cold.

I don't know what to do.

If I stay out I think I might die in the cold.

I lie outside the dogs den and bark.

FX Ivan barking.

Belka barks back.

FX Belka barks.

It is a good bark.

I think she might let me in now.

I bark again.

She barks back another good bark.

I crawl inside.

It is dark and warm.

I lie curled up with their warm bodies

All around me.

I put my head in their soft fur.

I am buried in their warm fur, in our den and the cold can't creep in and hurt me.

Belka licks me and sighs.

I know she loves me and I love her.

Now I am dog.

FX music.

Scene 12

IVAN

We don't go back to the restaurant.

But now it is very, very cold.

And people don't give anything.

I think there is even less money for people now.

The dogs and me are hungry all the time.

The men don't come out to eat their lunch because it's too cold, so nothing is in the bins outside.

But every night I am let into the dogs den, our den.

and I curl up with Belka and the others.

And then nothing is bad with the world.

Now I am standing on the corner of Strastnoy

Boulevard.

I have my hand out flat – though it is very, very

Maybe it is a sign that she will be my mother.

I go and stand in front of a shop with TV's to see her face. It is so beautiful.

A woman looks too.

WOMAN

Russian.

Ext. street.

- Such a shame. Such a shame, she's dead. They killed her. Gangsters killed her. Such a shame.

And the woman walks away.

They killed Svetlana.

Gangsters killed her.

They murdered her.

They killed the most beautiful woman in the world.

How could they kill the most beautiful woman in the world.

All humans are bad. All of them.

They only make bad things happen.

Scene 13

IVAN

So now.

Because we are so hungry.

I have to go back to the restaurant.

I wait for the man.

He comes out for a smoke.

He sees me and then goes back in.

He is a long time.

I think I shouldn't have come.

We are all so hungry, I have to wait and I am very worried but we are so hungry.

And anyway they can never get me because my dogs will always be here.

But then I know it's all wrong, I turn to go and then he shouts out.

Man

RUSSIAN

- Hey come back. Here some chocolate and some warm milk.

He holds up three chocolate bars and a Pepsi drink and tells me there's nothing to be afraid of.

Man.
RUSSIAN

- There is nothing to be afraid of.

But I know something is wrong.

Though my dogs are near and there is nothing to worry about.

Then militia come.

Man.
RUSSIAN

- There he is

There are eight of them.

I bark.

No one comes.

Man.
RUSSIAN

- Got him.

I bark again.

Still no one comes.

Man.
RUSSIAN

- You can bark all you like dog boy – no one's coming for you.

Where are they?

Belka, Strelka, Ruslan and Kugya.

FX IVAN shouting.

- Belka! Vano! Ruslan! Kugya!

They don't come.

Man.

RUSSIAN

- No one's coming for you.
- We've seen to them

Men laugh.

FX IVAN shouting.

- Belka! Belka! Belka!!

My dogs don't come.

I bark and bark.

But still they don't come.

FX van.

RUSSIAN.

- Well done.
- Easy. As easy as picking up a 5 year old eh boys.

The men grab me and put me in a van.

I howl.

FX howling.

Men.

RUSSIAN.

- Get him to be quiet.
- Shut it. Shut it!

I howl and howl.

They would have trapped them with food,

Because they were so hungry.

Belka.

One, two, three, four.

One, two, three, four.

Silence.

FX music.

Scene 14

IVAN

I won't write about the orphanage.

Those were the worst days.

Worse than before.

I was there for a long time.

There were bully-boys and younger boys who wet their beds and cried all night long.

Then you Erina, started to come

I tell you go away.

I tell you, your not dog so what's the point of

You.

I you I don't want to be human again.

I tell you that all humans lie.

I tell you dogs don't lie.

And I tell her, always, always I am with my dogs.

I am not here with you.

I tell you that everything is made up by humans, so they can make themselves up, so they are one big lie.

Dogs just are, they don't make things up.

Humans do only bad things, so go away!

And I you that that the only reason you want me is because of my time with the dogs.

Newspaper men come and take photos of me,

I won't talk to them.

I want my dogs back! I want my dogs!

But you, Erina, you come back again and again.

And one day I hear you shouting at a newspaper

Man, about me and telling them to leave me alone.

So one night I let you take me home.

There are no bully boys here and no one cries all night.

Scene 15

IVAN

On that first night – you give me warm milk,
And puts it in a cup in front of me. Then
You go over to a shelf and take down a Small white wooden box.

It has red curling patterns painted on it.

You say: “It’s for you Ivan.” And then you leave me in your kitchen with my milk and the box.

I am very cross that you are not a dog and I won’t drink my milk.

I look at the box and the red curling patterns on its side. I trace the patterns with my finger. I don't want it. I don’t want anything from you, Erina. But then I lift its lid, just a tiny bit and music plays. I shut the box down quickly and the music stops and then I open it slowly and this time I let the music play. It’s sweet.
I drink my milk and listen.

Then when it finishes you come back in and winds up the music box and it plays again. Only this time you sing a song to it.

Russian Lullaby.

“Bai, bai, bai, bai,
Báyu, Detusku mayú!
Bai, bai, bai, bai,
Báyu, Detusku mayú!
Shta na górki, na goryé,
O visyénnei, o poryé,
Ptíchki Bozhiye payút,
F tyómnam lyési gnyózda vyut.”

Then, you close the lid and look at me. My eyes are shut. I am sleeping. I think I might be safe here, safe with you.

Scene 16

IVAN

And I am told I have a soul.

It is the thing that has to be counted out when you die. 'One, two.' 'One two'.

It is a shiney thing that sits inside me and is a bit of God but when I look at it and feel it, it has a tale, and a black wet nose – and it can hear the sound of a man's whisper from 300 meters, the fall of snow and the ice breaking on the Moskva River, it can hear jackdaws, and sparrows and other wild things – the wild things that are around us always – deep in the middle of the city.

The middle of me is a dog.

And will always be dog.

But this is now.

And Erina, because I have told you this story that

I wouldn't tell, you have given me a dog.

I am holding a small puppy in my arms, a small white puppy.

I am allowed to call her Belka. I know it is Belka come back.

I know that she is my soul dog.

I know, its her, her sad eyes and her black nose, tell me this.

And the puppy sleeps in my bed.

And you do what you always do at night.

You wind up the music box, like you did that first time and sings.

FX brief refrain of lullaby to the back – into Ext of city and nocturnal animals and birds, mounting with music – into forest at night with forest animals.

And I fall into a deep sleep.

I see my dogs, all of my dogs, they are singing to me:

Vano, Strelka, Ruslan, Kugya and Belka.

We're down in the dark, dark city and it's very cold. Belka goes still and we all stand and wait.

Suddenly she barks and we run, and run into the wild, wild forest, into forever.

Into now.

Running and running with my dogs in the white falling snow.

The end